Excerpt: . . . pomegranates; also shrubs, which were not vines, yet bearing berries from which they make wine. 167. Their sun which to us is a star, appears flaming there, and about one-fourth as large as our own sun. In their year are about two hundred days, and the days of fifteen hours length, as compared with the days on our earth. The earth itself is among the smallest in the starry heavens, being scarcely five hundred German miles in circumference. This I learned from angels by comparison with such things as they saw in me, or in my memory, in relation to our earth. They formed these conclusions by angelic ideas, by which the measures of spaces and times are immediately known in their just relation to the spaces and times elsewhere. In such comparisons angelic ideas, which are spiritual, immensely exceed human ideas, which are natural. A FIFTH EARTH IN THE STARRY HEAVENS, AND ITS SPIRITS AND INHABITANTS. 168. Again I was conducted to another earth, which is in the universe beyond our solar system, and this also by means of changes of state, which lasted nearly twelve hours. In company with me were a number of spirits and angels from our earth, with whom I spoke on the way, or in that progression of state. I was borne now obliquely upward and then obliquely downward, continually toward the right, which in the other life is toward the south. In only two places did I...
