Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Crimson, Vol. 6 Yes, the Perkinses had all been at the Fair; Mr. Perkins, his wife, Melinda, and the four children, Josiah, Mary Jane, Hiram and little Elizabeth Ann. They were the only ones to represent the small village of Shakespeare and their return was eagerly watched by the Shakespearian neighbors. The Perkins family was the distinguished family of Shakespeare at this time, although no more than four months ago, they had been on a level with their neighbors. In fact, the neighbors honored them for their intellectual power, for Josiah, although nineteen, had passed the eighth grade examination, being the first in that district for the past three years; because of this honor, the remaining members of the family could not help feeling their advancement over their neighbors. Mary Jane, although twelve, was given the honor of choosing her side in all the games; Hiram, a boy of eight, was on one occasion, given command over the village army, as it was known, and four year old Elizabeth Ann once showed her authority...
